- a nominee for election to provincial or local government office*, as a school trustee or as a director of a francophone education authority
- an elected local government official
- an elected school trustee, or a director of a francophone education authority
- an employee designated by a local government, a francophone education authority or the board of a school district
- a public employee designated by the Lieutenant Governor in Council

Who has access to the information on this form?

What is a trustee? – s. 5 (2)

- holds a share in a corporation or an interest in land for your benefit, or is liable under the Income Tax Act (Canada) to pay income tax on income received on the share or land interest
- has an agreement entitling him or her to acquire an interest in land for your benefit

If sections do not provide enough space, attach a separate sheet to continue.

Assets – s. 3 (a)

List the name of each corporation in which you hold one or more shares, including shares held by a trustee on your behalf:

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation, the goals, and the constraints. It is important to gather all relevant information and to define the problem clearly.

2. The second step is to analyze the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, more manageable parts. It is important to identify the causes of the problem and to understand the relationships between the different parts.

3. The third step is to develop a solution. This involves brainstorming ideas and evaluating them. It is important to consider the feasibility of each idea and to choose the one that is most likely to be successful.

4. The fourth step is to implement the solution. This involves putting the solution into action and monitoring its progress. It is important to be flexible and to make adjustments as needed.

5. The fifth step is to evaluate the results. This involves comparing the results to the goals and to the constraints. It is important to identify any areas for improvement and to make changes as needed.

6. The sixth step is to communicate the results. This involves sharing the results with the relevant stakeholders. It is important to be clear and concise and to provide evidence to support the results.

7. The seventh step is to reflect on the process. This involves thinking about what worked well and what did not. It is important to learn from the experience and to use the lessons learned in the future.

8. The eighth step is to document the process. This involves writing down the steps that were taken and the results that were achieved. It is important to keep the documentation up-to-date and to use it as a reference in the future.

9. The ninth step is to review the process. This involves looking at the process as a whole and identifying any areas for improvement. It is important to be open to feedback and to make changes as needed.

10. The tenth step is to celebrate the success. This involves acknowledging the achievements of the team and the organization. It is important to take time to relax and to enjoy the success.

Liabilities – s. 3 (e)

List all creditors to whom you owe a debt. Do not include residential property debt (mortgage, lease or agreement for sale), money borrowed for household or personal living expenses, or any assets you hold in trust for another person:
