CVRD takes steps toward zero carbon buildings

The Comox Valley Regional District (CVRD) is advancing climate action by rolling out Emission Level 3 of the Zero Carbon Step Code, scheduled to take effect on January 1, 2027. This new standard, part of the BC Building Code, will require all new buildings in the region to use high-efficiency electric systems for heating and hot water, moving away from fossil fuels. The implementation supports CleanBC's Roadmap to 2030, which targets net-zero carbon emissions for all new buildings in British Columbia by 2030.
